PhD Symposium at ICTERI 2017

The PhD Symposium at ICTERI is organized for young researchers who are at the beginning of their career, such as Master or PhD students and also young researchers from industry. Our vision of the PhD Symposium at ICTERI is as of a venue that provides expert environment for the presentation of the tractable ideas and early results of PhD projects or other research aiming at receiving a PhD. Young researchers, who will join us to take part in discussions and/or present their papers, will be offered a rare opportunity to exchange and discuss their research ideas with their peers, supervisors, and senior scientists working in the fields within the scope of ICTERI 2017.

It is also planned to organize a PhD Mentor Panel as part of the ICTERI PhD Symposium 2017.

PhD Symposium Scope

The following research topics are being proposed for discussion at ICTERI PhD Symposium:
- (Semantic) Integration and Interoperability
- Managing Big Data
- Data Analysis and Business Intelligence
- Machine Learning and Decision Making
- Soft Computing
- Distributed Computing
- Interactive and Reactive Systems
- Architecture Models for Distributed Systems
- Rigorous Models and Methods for Specification and Analysis of Modern Software Systems
- Advances in and Tools for Technology Enhanced Learning
- Modeling Systems in Education
- Methodology and Didactics of Teaching and Using ICT

Submission Guidelines

The language of PhD Symposium at ICTERI is English. Submissions in any other language will be rejected without review. Presentations in any other language are also not accepted.

We solicit extended abstracts explaining and justifying the ideas for PhD projects or short papers presenting the first obtained results. Each submission should fit into the PhD Symposium scope outlined above. The authors are also encouraged to present the results of their research to prove that their ideas are tractable.

All submissions shall be annotated by two sets of key phrases:
(i) Key terms taken from the list of ICTERI subject descriptors available at http://srg.kit.ztu.edu.ua/icteriwiki/index.php/ICTERI-Subjects
(ii) Key words/phrases freely chosen by the authors. At least three and at most five key phrases have to be provided in each set.

All submissions must comply with the Springer CCIS format guidelines. Formatting instructions and template as well as submission guidelines are provided for your convenience at the ICTERI 2017 web site. Submissions must be made in .pdf or .doc/.docx by using EasyChair Conference Management System. Please submit your contribution to the PhD Symposium Track in the EasyChair submission system. To do this, you need to select the option button ‘PhD Symposium’ and click the button “Continue” on the page http://easychair.org/conferences/submission_new.cgi?a=13290149.

An extended abstract and short paper are the only admissible submission types for PhD Symposium at ICTERI.

Evaluation

All submissions will be evaluated by at least three members of the international program committee. Accepted papers will be published in the international proceedings volume online (CEUR-WS) before the conference.

Presentation

Accepted papers must be presented at ICTERI PhD Symposium session by its student author, who commits to register and attend the conference. The Symposium Chairs reserve the right to exclude from the proceedings papers that have not been presented.
