Posters and Demonstrations Track

Posters and Demonstrations Track at ICTERI offers an opportunity for conference participants from academia and industry to present and discuss both theoretical aspects and practical applications of their research. We strongly encourage the submissions by advanced students and industry professionals. Posters and demonstrations may include but are not limited to software demonstration, interactive models, real-time visualizations, novel technology applications. Live action and interaction with the audience are critical elements for the Track.

This track will be organized in a way to stimulate extensive exchange of ideas and showcases. Both presenters and participants will have a unique opportunity to be interactively engaged in discussions, hands-on trials and testing.

There will be an ICTERI award given for outstanding poster/demonstration.

Posters and Demonstrations Track Scope

The topics are being proposed for both Posters and Demonstrations include all topics of the conference within the following tracks:
Track 1: Advances in ICT Research
Track 2: Information Systems: Technology and Applications

Submission Guidelines

The language of the Track at ICTERI is English. Submissions in any other language will be rejected without review. Presentations in any other language are also not accepted.

We solicit extended abstracts. Each submission should fit into the Track aim and scope outlined above. Page limit: 4 LNCS pages.

We expect poster presenters to prepare a poster of A1 paper size in portrait mode (841x1189mm) that describes your research problem, solutions and important results in a visually appealing format. For demonstrations, presenters may use their own equipment or inquire organizers on the availability of the required equipment. Please do not submit a large-format poster image or presentation, only an abstract/paper describing in text what the poster/demonstration will present.

All submissions shall be annotated by the key words/phrases freely chosen by the authors. At least three and at most five key phrases have to be provided.

All submissions must comply with the Springer CCIS format guidelines. Formatting instructions and template as well as submission guidelines are provided for your convenience at the ICTERI 2018 web site: http://icteri.org/icteri-2018/

Submissions must be made in .pdf format by using Easy Chair Conference Management System: https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=icteri2018. To do this, you need to select the option "Poster and Demo Track" and click the button "Continue" on the initial submission page.

Evaluation and Publication

All submissions will be evaluated by at least three members of the international program committee. Accepted papers will be published in the international proceedings volume on-line (CEUR-WS) before the conference.

Evaluation focuses on novelty, originality, live action and potential of interaction with the audience, practical value of the research.

The abstract should clearly answer the following: (a) what is the problem being addressed; (b) what makes this problem interesting, important, and challenging; (c) what is your approach to solve the problem; and (d) what are your key contribution and novelty. Additionally, please describe the equipment required at the place of the demo and provide a URL with additional information about your work, poster and/or demonstration.

More details on page limits, the evaluation process and milestones are explained in the Process and Milestones page at the ICTERI 2018 web site: http://icteri.org/icteri-2018/process-and-milestones/.

Presentation

Accepted posters and demonstrations must be presented at ICTERI Poster and Demos session by the author or a group of authors, who commit to register and attend the conference. The Track Chair reserves the right to exclude from the proceedings papers that have not been presented.

Please follow the updates on the ICTERI web site (information for Authors) to find the instructions on the preparation of your Poster or Demo presentations.
